Section 1 – Understand conflict management in the workplace

Q1. Identify causes of conflict at work

For an identify you should name the causes of conflict and write a few words state demonstrate your understanding of them. You must include at least two.

Q2. Describe the stages in the development of conflict

Include all of the stages with a description for each one. Make each stage clear and separate from the others.

Q3. Explain the effects of conflict on individual and team performance at work

This question is asking for two things – effects of conflict on individual performance and effects of conflict on team performance. You will need to provide two effects for each. Separate your answer and make it clear which effects are for individual performance and which are for team performance. Remember, you need two for each.

Q4. Explain any recognised technique a manager could use to minimise and resolve conflict in the workplace

You must provide a recognised technique for this answer that appropriate for minimising and resolving conflict. As an explain, you should add in as much detail as you and consider why/how the technique is appropriate. Also think about any pros and cons it has. You may use examples from your own experience to help you with this.

Q5. Describe how a manager could promote a positive atmosphere in order to minimise the adverse effects of conflict

Include at least two actions a manager can take within your answer. Describe how/why the actions will promote a positive atmosphere and minimise adverse effects of conflict. Use examples from your own experience if you have any.

Section 2 – Understand the legal aspects, organisational policy and how to monitor to discipline in the workplace

Q1. Briefly describe the legal aspects of the disciplinary process

Include at least two different legal aspects in your answer. Separate the two from each other to make it clear and provide a brief description for each one.

Q2. Identify an organisation's employment policies and procedures that could guide the manager in dealing with disciplinary issues

Name at least 2 different employment policies or procedures and write a sentence or two to give the main point of each policy/procedure.

Q3. Describe the purpose of disciplinary procedure

In your description, consider the benefits of having a disciplinary procedure and the consequences of not having one or not following it.

Q4. Identify the interpersonal behaviour and support skills required by a manager to monitor discipline in the workplace

Include both interpersonal behaviour and support skills in your answer. For each one, provide a sentence or two to demonstrate your understanding of them.
