

vision2learn

Business and Administration

Hints and Tips

Unit 4

Contents

Section 1 – Why change happens	4
Section 2 – Supporting change	5
Section 3 – Responding to change	6

Hints and Tips Unit 4

The information in this guide will be helpful to you when you are ready to complete your assessment for the following unit:

Unit four: Principles of supporting change in a business environment

Section 1 – Why change happens

Q1. Explain why change happens in a business environment. You should include two reasons in your answer.

You need to explain why change happens within a business. As well as the course materials, a useful resource to help answer this question can be found at <http://www.businessballs.com/pestanalysisfreetemplate.htm>.

Section 2 – Supporting change

Q1. Identify the main reasons for reviewing working methods, products or services in a business environment.

Areas that need to be considered for this question include looking at the impact that reviewing work methods could have on how you operate in your job. Could this result in the business offering different products or services?

Q2. Describe the different types of support that people may need.

When a business is going through change, think about the sort of support employees might need and how this will help them.

Q3. Explain the benefits of working with others.

For this part you need to consider the advantages that working in a team may bring and the possible consequences of not working as part of a team, especially when a business is going through changes.

Section 3 – Responding to change

Q1a. Explain why you should respond positively to changes in working methods.

Think about different working methods and explain why responding positively to change for any working method is important. What difference does it make to you and the organisation if you are positive about the changes.

Q1b. Explain why you should respond positively to changes in products and services.

As above, but this time think about the products and services that an organisation may sell. These may often change; how should you respond to these changes. What is the benefit to yourself and the organisation if you respond positively to such changes?

Q2. Identify ways of responding positively to change.

For the examples that you've provided in question 1, identify ways in which you can be positive. What can you do, to show you are positive and help colleagues and the organisation with the changes?