Hints and Tips Unit 5

The information in this guide will be helpful to you when you are ready to complete your assessment for the following unit:

Unit five: Principles of supporting business events

Section 1 – Supporting business events

Q1. You are given a scenario in the assessment. Using this, describe the range of support activities that may be required for the event.

You need to describe the range of support activities that may be required when organising an event. Simply listing the range of support activities is not sufficient. Think about why a range of support activities are better than only one or two support activities.

Q2. Complete the table below by identifying two ways of providing support before, during and after a business event.

For each section of the table identify a way of providing support for a business event. Please make sure you complete all sections of the table.

Section 2 – Being professional

Q1. Explain the purpose of displaying professional and helpful behaviour when supporting a business event. Consider what this behaviour will achieve and record below.

Why is it important that you behave in a professional manner? By displaying professional behaviour how will this benefit the event? Also, if you displayed unprofessional behaviour what could the possible consequences be?

Q2. Describe two different ways of exhibiting professional and helpful behaviour whilst supporting a business event.

Think carefully about what constitutes professional and helpful behaviour. Does this include how you look and appear to people? What about how you talk to people and the non-verbal communication you demonstrate? How should you deal with attendees / speakers' queries and requests?

Section 3 – Dealing with problems

Q1. What are the main types of problems that may occur when supporting a business event? You should include three different types of problems in your answer.

Three types of problems can occur whilst holding a business event. You need to include one example of each problem in your answer.

Q2. Identify possible solutions for each of the problems you have listed in Question 1 above.

For the three examples you have given in Question 1, you need to outline specific solutions of how you would overcome each problem.
