

vision2learn

Understanding Autism

Hints
and
Tips

Unit 2

Contents

Session 1 – Know how legislation and guidance underpins support for individuals with autism	4
Session 2 – Understand how to support individuals with autism using a person-centred approach	5

Hints and Tips Unit 2

The information in this guide will be helpful to you when you are ready to complete your assessment for the following unit:

Unit 2 - Using a person-centred approach to support individuals with autism

Session 1 – Know how legislation and guidance underpins support for individuals with autism

Q1. In the table below, outline the key points of current legislation and guidance in relation to:

- autism
- equality and disability rights
- special educational needs
- mental capacity and best interests
- advocacy [1.1]

For this question you just need to outline key points within legislation and guidance that relates to each of the factors listed. This includes current law, statutory guidance, codes of practice, and good practice guidelines that support the rights and best interests of people with autism.

Q2. In the box below, outline how legislation and guidance can be used to support individuals with autism. [1.2]

For this question you need to think about how the legislation and guidance that is in place can be used to support individual with autism. The video on page 2 of session 1 contains some useful information relating to this topic. The following website also has some useful information.

<https://www.scie.org.uk/autism/adults/main-issues/think-autism>

Session 2 – Understand how to support individuals with autism using a person-centred approach

Q1. In the box below, describe what is meant by 'person-centred support'. [2.1]

For this question, make sure your answer is clear and provide as much detail as possible as it is asking for a description. Try to relate to response to personalisation and co-production in relation to support for individuals with autism.

Q2. In the box below, explain why it is important to treat the person with autism as an individual. [2.2]

This is an explain question so you should provide good detail in your response. Think about what treating a person with autism as an individual will achieve. What benefits will it have?

Q3. In the table below, give examples of how support can be provided in a way that is:

- compassionate
- non-judgemental. [2.3]

For this question you need to give 2 examples for each factor. The following website has some useful information that will assist you.

Autism & compassion | Autism Support Network

Q4. in the table below, give examples of how the rights of individuals with autism can be promoted. [2.4]

For this question you must give three examples. You should use the course materials on page 2 for guidance with this and you may also carry out some additional research to assist you with this. Factors to consider are:

- independence
- individuality
- making own choices
- fair and equal treatment
- respect
- dignity

Q5. In the box below, describe how to incorporate the preferences and needs of individuals when providing support.. [2.5]

This is a describe question so try to provide good detail in your response. You will find the case study on page 2 of session 2 helpful when formulating your response.

Q6. In the box below, explain why it is important to work with each individual's strengths and abilities to enable them to achieve their potential. [2.6]

This is an explain question so you need to provide good detail in your response. Think about what this will achieve, how will working with peoples strengths and abilities help them achieve their potential.

Q7. in the table below, give examples of the contribution that informal networks can make to supporting individuals with autism and their families. [2.7]

For this question you must give three examples. You should use the information on page 3 of session 2 for guidance and the following website has some information that you may find useful.

Peer Connect :: The importance of informal supports

Q8. In the box below, explain the importance of working in partnership with the individual and others. [2.8]

This is an explain question so you need to provide good detail in your response. Think about what working in partnership will achieve, what are the benefits that this can have? Others include:

- family
- carers
- friends
- healthcare professionals
- care workers
- advocates
- social worker
- other people appropriate to the individual.

Q9. In the box below, outline the principles of confidentiality in relation to supporting individuals with autism. [2.9]

For this question you should use the information on page 4 of session 2 to assist you in formulating your answer. What are the principles? How do they relate to confidentiality?