

vision2learn

Understanding Autism

Hints
and Tips

Unit 6

Contents

Session 1 – Understand the experience of living with autism	4
Session 2 – Understand how social interaction may differ in individuals with autism	5
Session 3 – Understand the purpose of positive risk-taking	6
Session 4 – Know how to support individuals with transitions and life events	4
Session 5 – Know how to support individuals to access services and facilities	5
Session 6 – Know how to support individuals with employment	6

Hints and Tips Unit 6

The information in this guide will be helpful to you when you are ready to complete your assessment for the following unit:

Unit 6 - Supporting individuals with autism to live healthy and fulfilled lives

Session 1 – Understand the experience of living with autism

Q1. In the table below, outline the potential effects of living with autism on an individual's:

- development and puberty
- education, employment and life chances
- access to services and facilities [1.1]

This question is asking for an outline so make sure that you cover all three points in your response. Use the information in the slider and the video on page 2 to assist you when formulating your answer.

Q2. In the table below, describe the impact on family members of supporting:

- a child or young person with autism
- an adult with autism. [1.2]

For this question you need to think about the effects that supporting both a young person and an adult with autism. How does the impact differ between the two? Think about the different strains that this can put on family members. Consider siblings as well as parents.

Q3. In the box below, identify positive aspects of living with autism. [1.3]

This is an identify question so you simply need to list your responses. Try and think of as many positive aspects as you can.

Session 2 – Understand how social interaction may differ in individuals with autism

Q1. In the box below, identify factors that may compromise the personal safety of an individual with autism. [2.1]

This is another identify question so you only need to list your responses. As mentioned previously try to give as many factors as you can in your response.

Q2. In the table below, give reasons why people with autism may be vulnerable to:

- bullying
- exploitation. [2.2]

For this question try to consider as many different reasons as you can when formulating your response. Make sure that you differentiate your responses for bullying and exploitation as there are some instances that could be said to be both bullying and exploitation.

Q3. In the box below, outline ways to safeguard against the bullying and exploitation of individuals with autism. [2.3]

Think about the support and guidance that can be accessed to ensure that individuals are safeguarded. The video on page 1 of session 2 is a good source of information for this but you may also want to carry out some additional research. The following website contains some useful information relating to this.

7 Steps to Take A Stand Against Bullying | Autism Speaks

Q4. In the box below, outline strategies that individuals can use to protect themselves from harm and abuse. [2.4]

As well as the course materials the following website contains a lot of useful tips that can be employed to help protect individuals with autism from harm and abuse.

How do I keep a person with ASD safe from abuse or mistreatment? - Autism Awareness \(autismawarenesscentre.com\)

Q5. In the box below, describe ways to support individuals to use the internet and social media safely. [2.5]

This is a describe question so try to provide good detail in your response. As well as the information in the course materials the following website has some information that you may find useful when formulating your answer.

autism and internet safety

Session 3 – Understand the purpose of positive risk-taking

- Q1. In the box below, identify aspects of everyday life in which risk plays a part. Please give at least 3 examples. [3.1]

This is an identify question so you simply need to list your response. Remember that things that people without autism don't see as risks can be a significant risk factor to an individual with autism.

- Q2. In the box below, Outline the benefits individuals can gain from positive risk-taking. [3.2]

As well as using the video on page 1 of session 3 to assist you when formulating your response, you may find the following website helpful.

The benefits of Positive Risk Taking

- Q3. In the box below, explain how risk assessment can be used with individuals and others. [3.3]

This is an explain question so you need to provide good detail in your answer. You first need to consider what risk assessments are and how specifically they can be used in relation to assessing the types of risk that individuals with autism may be exposed to.

Session 4 – Know how to support individuals with transitions and life events

Q1. In the box below, identify a range of life events and transitions that individuals may experience.. [4.1]

This is an identify question so you only need to list your responses. Try and think of as many life and transition events as you can to demonstrate your understanding.

Q2. In the box below, give reasons why individuals with autism may find these transitions difficult. [4.2]

Transitions can be difficult for any person but what is it that can make these transitions more difficult for individuals with autism? You should use the information on session 4 page 1 and especially the video to help you formulate your answer. Try to give as many reasons as you can.

Q3. In the box below, identify ways that individuals can be supported through transitions. [4.3]

This is an identify question so you just need to list the different ways that individuals can be supported.

Q4. In the box below, describe how to involve others in the transition process. [4.4]

This is a describe question so try and provide good detail in your answer. Think of the different ways that others can be involved in the transition process. The case study on page 2 of session 4 will be useful to reference when formulating your response.

Session 5 – Know how to support individuals to access services and facilities

Q1. In the table below, identify the support an individual may need to access:

- healthcare
- education and training
- leisure services. [5.1]

This is an identify question so you simply need to list the support that may be required. Make sure that you cover all three points in your responses.

Q2. In the box below, outline the rights of individuals with autism in relation to accessing services and facilities. [5.2]

When formulating your response to this question there is a link beneath the slides on page 1 which opens up the acts and guidance that you covered in unit 2 which you may find helpful.

Q3. In the box below, give examples of reasonable adjustments that could be made for individuals with autism. [5.3]

For this question you don't need to go into great detail but you must ensure that you give three examples asked for.

Q4. In the box below, outline the support available for individuals and families from rights groups and community support organisations. [5.4]

A wide range of support is mentioned on page 2 as well as links to assist you in formulating your response. Try to give as many different types of support as you can.

Session 6 – Know how to support individuals with employment

Q1. In the box below, identify barriers that people with autism may face in gaining employment. [6.1]

This is an identify question so you simply need to list a range of barriers in your response.

Q2. In the table below, describe how individuals can be supported with:

- gaining employment
- starting employment
- continuing employment.. [6.2]

This is a describe question so you need to provide good detail in your answer. The slides on page 1 contain a lot of information relating to these three factors. Make sure that you cover all three of the points.

Q3. In the box below, identify organisations and agencies that support individuals with autism into employment. [6.3]

This is an identify question so you simply need to list your response. Try to think of as wide a range of organisations and agencies as you can. You may also want use the links on page 2 to assist you with this.